I. MOTION TO CONVERT CASE TO CHAPTER 7

A. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

RONALD G. BROWN, the Chapter 11 Trustee for the estate of Adam Grossman, applies to this Court for an order converting this case to a Chapter 7 for the reasons forth below.

The debtor filed a pro se voluntary chapter 11 petition on June 25, 2010 which was assigned case number 10-17334. The case was dismissed on July 22, 2010 for failure to file schedules.

The debtor filed a pro se voluntary chapter 11 on July 27, 2010 which was assigned case number 10-18671. On August 9, 2010 the case was dismissed for failure to meet minimum filing requirements such as a master mailing list, small business balance sheet, cash flow statement, statement of operations and federal tax returns.

The debtor filed a voluntary chapter 11 bankruptcy petition on August 19, 2010 which was assigned case number 10-19817.

The debtor's Schedule I lists monthly income of $2,200.00 derived from rental income from real property. The debtor's schedules list monthly expenses of $6,920.41. Thus the debtor is running at a monthly deficit of $4,720.41.

Schedule B, question 13 requires the debtor to disclose all interests in incorporated and unincorporated businesses. The debtor's answer is "see attachment". There is no attachment.

A motion to appoint a chapter 11 trustee was filed on October 22, 2010 (docket #32). An order was entered appointing a Chapter 11 Trustee pursuant to court order dated

Wood & Jones, P.S.
303 North 67th Street
Seattle, WA 98103
(206) 623-4382

December 17, 2010 (docket #69). Ronald G. Brown was appointed as the Chapter 11 Trustee pursuant to Court order dated December 22, 2010 ("docket #73).

There is no business to operate. The debtor allegedly receives rental income in the amount of $2,200.00 from real property located at 773 Metro Way, Redding, California ("773 Property"). Cindy Loegering, an old family friend, is the "property manager" who collects the rent. The trustee says allegedly because while the allegation is that the Metro Property rents for $2,200.00 per month, the trustee has no evidence this is true. The Trustee has demanded turnover of the rental income from both the debtor and his property manager Cindy Loegering and both have soundly ignored him.

The only other assets of this estate appear to be avoidance actions, disgorgement actions and selling two or three parcels of real property with limited equity. There is no possibility for a successful reorganization. This is a liquidation case. See Declaration of Ronald G. Brown filed simultaneously herewith.

There is no reason to remain in a chapter 11 and incur the U.S. Trustee chapter 11 quarterly fees.

The exclusivity period of section 1121 of the Bankruptcy Code granting the debtor the exclusive right to file a chapter 11 plan of reorganization expired on December 19, 2010.

The Chapter 11 Trustee sees no reason to file a chapter 11 plan and does not plan on doing so.

B. LAW

The Court shall convert or dismiss a case for cause. 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b)(1). Cause includes diminution of the estate and the absence of a reasonable likelihood of rehabilitation, gross mismanagement, failure to comply with an order and failure to timely file a disclosure statement and plan of reorganization. 11 U.S.C. §§ 1112(b)(4)(A), (B), (E) and (J).

Wood & Jones, P.S.
303 North 67th Street
Seattle, WA 98103
(206) 623-4382

The examples of cause enumerated in 11 U.S.C. § 1112(b) are not exclusive. In re Wiersma, 324 B.R. 92, 114 (9th Cir. BAP 2005).

C. ARGUMENT

This debtor should not be in a chapter 11. The debtor's schedules show that in an average month the debtor incurs $4,720.41 of debt he cannot pay. To date the debtor has filed no monthly reports.

1. There is cause to convert this case to Chapter 7.

- 1112(b)(4)(A): Diminution of the Estate and The Absence of Likely Rehabilitation. Based on the debtor's bankruptcy schedules, there appears to be dimunition of the estate as post-petition expenses appear to exceed post-petition income by more than $4,000.00 per month. There is no likelihood of rehabilitation. The debtor, according to his schedules, has no business to reorganize. His schedules indicate he has property with very limited equity.

- 1112(F):Failure to Satisfy any Filing or Reporting Requirement. US-21 Statement of Financial Condition is a form all debtors are required to fill out. To date the debtor has filed no reports whatsoever. Thus no one has any idea the amount of post-petition debt. The debtor has not satisfied the reporting requirement.

II. MOTION TO COMPEL ACCOUNTING AND TO COMPEL TURNOVER

The debtor has not filed any monthly reports since the Petition Date. The Trustee has no idea whether the rental income from the 773 Property has been collected. The Trustee has no idea if collected whether any expenses were paid from it, whether it was remitted to the debtor, to someone for the debtor's benefit or any other myriad of options.

The Trustee contacted Ms. Loegering in early January, 2011 just shortly after his appointment. He talked to her and advised that she needed to turnover the January rent to him and she advised that it had already been disbursed. He asked her to provide him with an accounting and she agreed to do so. To date no accounting has been received. See Declaration of Ronald Brown filed simultaneously herewith. Mr. Brown has since called Ms. Loegering in relation to the February rent and received no return phone call. He has also written to Ms. Loegering and he has received no response. See Exhibit "___" to the Declaration of Ronald Brown.

III. CONCLUSION

This case needs a disinterested but aggressive steward to ensure that all avoidance actions are brought, all interests in all entities owned by the debtor are liquidated, and the properties appraised and sold if appropriate. As demonstrated above, there are numerous causes for conversion or appointment of a trustee.

WHEREFORE, the Chapter 11 Trustee Ronald Brown requests that the Court enter an order either converting this case to Chapter 7, compelling an accounting and compelling turnover as set forth above.
